My component renders an object in an array of objects. I want to change the name of the first object in the array, and then re-render the component. The problem is that I am struggling with updating a specific object. Here is the component code // This component renders an array of objects export default class Foo extends React.Component { render() { return ( Foo {this.props.foo.map(p => {p.text})} 82157476af
